Class Attendance Verification

In accordance with federal regulations, financial aid cannot be released to a student's account until the professors have verified class attendance. Class attendance will be taken by professors on the first day of each class for which a student is registered.