Class Attendance Verification

In accordance with federal regulations, financial aid cannot be released to the student's account until the professors have verified the student's class attendance. Class attendance will be taken by professors on the first day of each class for which the student is registered.