Regent's Engineering Transfer Program

The REGENTS' ENGINEERING TRANSFER PROGRAM (RETP) - allows prospective engineering students to take the first two years of the engineering curriculum at a designated first institution and, upon successful completion of the first two years of course work, transfer to one of 5 engineering institutions (second institution) in the state to complete the last two years of the engineering degree. Also, non-resident students and Georgia residents who are interested in the engineering programs at other universities may take the same course of study as the RETP students and then transfer to the school of their choice. Students may attend Georgia Southern University as a first institution for the first two years of course work and then transfer to one of four second institutions in the state that offering engineering degrees. Students may attend one of 16 designated first institutions in the state and then transfer to Georgia Southern University (second institution) to complete their engineering degree.
