Center for Irish Research and Teaching

The mission of the Irish Studies program is to familiarize our diverse student body with the history, literature, culture, and politics of Ireland and the worldwide Irish diaspora, especially the Irish of the American South. By demonstrating applications to both the academic world and students’ everyday lives, the program is able to introduce students to interdisciplinary approaches in ethnic and international studies. The Irish Studies program offers direct firsthand opportunities for students to broaden their understanding of and engagement with various issues of cultural identity, developments in nationalism, and international experiences. Irish Studies students are asked to consistently hone their understanding of world cultures in order to effectively create new knowledge and construct innovative critical assessments of historical and contemporary Irish situations and issues. The program, in concurrence with the disciplinary standards and overall mission of the University, distills within our students the spirit of integrity, civility, kindness, and collaboration, as well as a commitment to lifelong learning, wellness, and social responsibility.
